Reminders:

- All classes must administer a final. This includes all seminar c lasses and peer tutors.
- Allocated Time; Assessment Type: Every class/teacher must administer a test or activity which appropriately uses the allocated test time. Semester finals may consist of skill or performance tests as well as oral or written examinations depending upon the objectives of the course and the nature of the learning activities of the class. Assessments that require multiple days or special scoring events may be started or parts administered prior to the end of the semester, however, the allocated test time for finals (last three days) must be appropriately used and students are required to attend school when their classes are in session.
